

Student Achievements

Smart India Hackathon 2019 (Software Edition): Hyderabad (March 2- 3, 2019)	First prize won by: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Aashish Raj Gupta (3rd year) 2. Divya Baid (3rd year) 3. Harsh Upadhyay (3rd year) 4. Pranjul Parnami (3rd year) 5. Rohit Samudralwar (3rd year) 6. Shivam Gera (3rd year)
Smart India Hackathon 2019 (Software Edition): Ahmedabad	First prize won by: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Mr. Naman Agarwal (3rd year) 2. Ms. Pyushi Paliwal (3rd year) 3. Mr. Shubham Sharma (3rd year) 4. Mr. Shivam Sharma (3rd year) 5. Mr. Chirag Jindal (3rd year) 6. Mr. Manvendra Singh Panwar (3rd year)
Smart India Hackathon 2019 (Software Edition): Indore	Special mention won by: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Yashashwi Sidarth (3rd year) 2. Sivakethan Suddapalli (3rd year) 3. Tanishqa Jain (3rd year) 4. Saloni Singh (3rd year) 5. Preksha Pandey (3rd year) 6. Priyank Mitra (3rd year)
Red Hat's Women in Open Source Award 2019	Saloni Garg (3rd year) selected winner of the 2019 Women in Open Source Academic Award, will be awarded at the Red Hat Summit conference in Boston
FOSSASIA Summit '19 (March 14-17, 2019) An International level Hackathon by UNESCO and IBM, conducted at Singapore	Amit Sagtani (3rd year CSE) and three other LNMIIT students won: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. First prize in AI Development. 2. First prize in Audience category. 3. Third prize in Cloud by IBM Category
APAC Women Techmakers Scholars Program, 2018 (October 11– 13, 2018)	Khyati Doshi (3rd year) was selected and received a scholarship amount of USD$1000 and invitation to the Scholar's Retreat hosted by Google at Singapore Office.
Google Venkat Scholarship Awarded every year to the top 6 UG/PG student applicants from all over India by Google	Saloni Garg (3rd year) won the scholarship and will receive a financial grant of $750 (+ $250 additional) and invited to Youtube and Google Headquarters.
Student Startup Exposure Programme (SSEP) 2018 Organized by the Rajasthan Government in	Nine students from CSE Department were selected in this program. These 3rd year students were:

July/August, 2018	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Punit Agarwal 2. Neelansh Sethi 3. Pratibha Goyal 4. Rahul Bhatia 5. Saloni Garg 6. Amit Sagtani 7. Akanksha Maheshwari 8. Akshat Sharma 9. Urvika Agrawal
Google Summer of Code (2018):	Ten students got selected in GSoC 2018. These were: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Harshit Prasad (CERN) 2. Parth Shandliya (FOSSASIA) 3. Saurabh Chaturvedi (FOSSASIA) 4. Vibhor Agarwal (Oppia Foundation) 5. Riya Lohia (SugarLabs) 6. Pratul Kumar (SugarLabs) 7. Amit Sagtani (KDE Community) 8. Lakshya Gupta (Open Data Kit) 9. Vivek K. Tiwari (R project for Statistical Computing) 10. Vinay Sharma (JDErobot)
India Innovation Challenge Design Contest (IICDC) 2018: Organized by Texas Instruments in collaboration with Department of Science and Technology (DST) and anchored by NSRCEL, Indian Institute of Management, Bangalore (IIMB) and supported by MyGov	Out of the 346 teams shortlisted for the Quarter Finals round, LNMIIT team comprising of students Vibhor Agarwal (3rd year), Tirth Shah (3rd year) and Swarnim (3rd year, ECE), also qualified.
Harvard Project for Asian and International Relations (HPAIR) in Cambridge, Massachusetts (15-18 February 2019): HPAIR is an internationally recognized student organization at Harvard College	Two students, Aayush Mishra (2nd year) and Neelansh Sethi (3rd year), selected for this.
Rajasthan Hackathon 2016 organised by Jaipur Development Authority, Govt. of Rajasthan	Lakshya Gupta secured 1st position in “iOS and Android App Development competition”
Outreachy 2017 hosted by Software Freedom Conservancy with the special support from Red Hat and the GNOME Foundation	Sonali Gupta
Zulip Summer of Code 2017 organized by Dropbox	Saket Kumar