

ORIENTATION CEREMONY

LNMIIT has always believed in commending the students to inspire them to scale greater heights. On August 17, 2017 ASME LNMIIT organised the Orientation ceremony for the new members of our family.

The event began with a short introduction to them about MME department and the faculties. After that they were introduced to the governing council of ASME LNMIIT. The event was organised to familiarise them with our Dept. and ASME student chapter, tell them about the events and activities being conducted by the chapter. They were given a brief idea what actually Mechanical Engineering is and what kind of work we do in industries. They were given a short description about Designing as newbies to engineering this would be their first step in this new life.

As a part of fun event, a Logo Quiz was organised for the students and they really enjoyed a lot. Chocolates and Pens were distributed as prizes to the winners.

In the end refreshments were served to the students and the event was concluded. The event marked a great success as we got a good number of participation from the students.
